Daily Intelligencer.
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1876.
Town and Vicinity.

New Telegraph Office. The Dominion Telegraph Company have opened a new office in Paisley, Ont.

Dogs.—The number of dogs licensed up to date is 258, and still all the dogs in town have not been registered.

Rain.—There was a light rain during part of yesterday and last night. But a small amount of water fell, just sufficient to thoroughly lay the dust.

Sabbath School.—The children attending at St. Andrew's Sabbath School will hold their annual picnic at that favorite spot, Massena Point, to-morrow.

Cricket.—We understand that a match game of cricket will be played to-morrow between the Fifth and Belleville Clubs.
Wickets will be pitched at 10 o'clock.

The "Kingbird".—Capt. Mosher, of this town has succeeded in killing a command of the Kingbird. The new commander is a small seaman, is affable and courteous in demeanor, and we have no doubt will very soon become popular on the route.

Fine Apparatus.—Two hose carts, loaded with hose, have arrived here on the way to Trenton. The hose seems of good quality, and the carts, although heavy and not by any means ornamental, are of substantial build, and calculated to stand severe usage.

Picnic.—The Orange Young Britons are holding their annual picnic at Massena Point to-day. The threatening weather has doubtless had a bad effect upon the attendance. The Young Britons will enjoy the evening in the Ontario Hall, where an Assembly to be given under their auspices.

The Harbor.—Business continues very dull in the harbor. The timber vessel Janie H. Brock, a large three-master, is loading logs at the Grand Junction dock, and the steam barge Norma is at the light-house, and three or four schooners, some of which are laid up, and others are in commission, form the fleet at present in the harbor.

Shooting.—Local Nimrods are already beginning to overhaul their favorite weapons, preparatory to a raid on the ducks. They will have to "keep cool" until the 15th, on which day and afterwards they may expect their skill. Good sport is expected, as the birds seem to be more than usually numerous this year, large flocks of black ducks having lately been seen in this vicinity.

Heated Grain.—A contemporary remarks: "As instances of the bad effects of putting the new grain crop under cover before it is thoroughly dry have come under our notice, it would be well for those engaged in agricultural pursuits to exercise caution. The cool weather and apprehension of rain are both temptations to haste in harvest field operations, and crops are sometimes hastily carried into the barn before the necessary moisture is consumed, and the consequences are soon realized in heated grain, radically injured for use or sale. Barley, especially, should be carefully watched."

The Swindler.—The second who, a few days ago, swindled a number of people here, has been seen at sea, and is precisely the same trick, and successfully, too, across the lines. The Oswego Palladium of the 2nd, says:—"A person who is going about the city representing himself to be a Catholic priest, and collecting money for some alleged charitable object, is promoted to be an impostor. He wears a clerical habit, and to all appearances may be the real thing, but the Catholic clergymen of this city say he is not. We presume that he is the same person advancing in the Syracuse paper-walk and a similar business. He is said to have collected considerably money yesterday. He represents himself to be one of the society of Christian Brothers. It is certainly astonishing that a person who has been so thoroughly exposed by the press can pursue his career successfully.
One of these days he will fall into the hands of the police and get free labor for a longer term than he bargains for."

St. John's Church, West Belleville.
The Musical and Literary Entertainment held last evening in the Town Hall by the members of Christ Church, in aid of the new English Church in West Belleville, was as successful as could be expected from the character of the evening. The hall was three parts filled with an attentive and appreciative audience. The first was taken at 8 o'clock by Mr. Overell, and the proceedings commenced by a brilliant oration into the pulpit by Prof. Walsh, who, with his usual kindness, lent his valuable services for the occasion. This was followed by various solos, duets, choruses and instrumental pieces, and short songs, in which the choir of Christ Church, Mrs. Reid, (sister of the Incumbent) Miss Moskigley, Missa Garratt and Phoenix, Mr. Breakall and Prof. Dawson took their share, rendering their respective parts with excellent taste and ability. Mr.

Walsh's song "The Almond" and Messrs.
Dean and VanNorden's musical performance on the flute and guitar deserve special mention, and the audience testified their appreciation of them by hearty applause and encore. The refreshments in charge of Miss Wallbridge and the ladies of Christ Church, were served during intermission at extra charge. The proceeds of the entertainment will probably not over one hundred dollars.

Police Court.
(Before A. Diamond, Esq., P.M.)
WEDNESDAY, AUG. 4.
The charge of assault preferred by John Skinner against Charles Kennedy, was dismissed.

LARCENY.
Thomas Leray, charged with stealing a bat from the Dominion House, was remanded until to-morrow.

DRUNK.
Dennis Millan, charged as above, was dismissed on promising to go to work.

VAGRANCY.
Mary Smith and Annala Bailey, two well-known characters, who had been arrested not exactly in the manner prescribed by law, were dismissed, showing messages on the Magistrate for his leniency.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]
To the Editor of the Intelligencer.
SIR.—In your paper of the 3rd inst. I observed under the head of "Another Victory for the Champion," a report of a Responder to the Inkerman farm; and as the said Responder is a member of the Dominion Society, I am glad to see that the said Spaniards dare not go promiscuously out of the fortifications. Provosts are scarce at Puerto Principe, and yellow fever and cholera are killing off a number of the newly arrived Spaniards.
Vandalism is reported detestable of resigning.

The recently arrived gold speculators are reported unanimously released.
Small-pox is almost epidemic in the suburbs of Havana.

stances where family were not fortunate enough to be thorough harvesting. A 3 1/2 bushel yield of July was reported here it was injured much by the rain.

From the middle, east and west line of the State south to the Ohio River, there has been scarcely been a good harvest day in two months and recently none at all. All the grain that has yet matured has been almost wholly destroyed. Some wheat has been saved, but the water has been so deep away by the flood; but this had already become worthless. Out on the uplands, will, if good weather should very soon return, be watered to a considerable extent, though the crop of harvesting will be much increased.

Thus far little corn has been absolutely destroyed, though much has been more or less injured. Corn is the great staple of most of the insulated country, and millions of acres now stand under water on the Miami River bottom, water sometimes being up to the tassels of immense fields of corn. The rains have well-nigh produced a great calamity, but if reasonably dry weather should now be enjoyed, the great staple would not be much hurt, and the people would be left well able to maintain their losses except in individual cases. If rainy weather continues but a little while longer, however, corn, will be destroyed, and several millions of inhabitants of the most fertile part of the continent will be left without the means of securing sufficient food for the winter.

Current Humor

PLEASE A ROMANCE.

One day, as Zachariah Hodgson was going to his daily avocation after breakfast, he purchased a tin, large, oval, and, as it happened, with directions to his wife to have it cooked for dinner. As no particular notice of cooking was prescribed, the good woman well knew that, whether she boiled it or made it into chowder, her husband would eat it when he came home. But she resolved to please him in all respects, and therefore cooked portions of it in several different styles, and with some difficulty prepared an amphibious soup, which she placed in a large tin, and then, with a frowning, fish-skinning look, the moody man commended the conversation.

"Well, wife, did you get the fish I bought?"

"Yes, husband."

"I should like to know how you cooked it. I'll be anything you spoiled it for my eating." (Takes of the cover.) "I thought so. What is creation possessed you to fry it? I would have left it boiled frog."

"Why, husband, I thought you liked it best frog."

"You didn't think any such thing; you knew better. I never liked fried fish. Why did you boil it? How long?"

"Why, Zachariah, the last time I had fresh fish, you know, I boiled it, and I have said you liked it best fried. But I have some boiled also. So saying, she lifted the cover, and let the shoulders of a boiled cod were deposited in a dish—a sight of which would make any epicurean blink."

"A pretty dish, this 'chops and porridge'! If you had been one of the most stupid of womankind you would have made it into chowder."

His patient wife, with a smile, immediately placed a tureen before him, containing an excellent chowder. "I thought so," she said, "I was resolved to please you. There is your favorite dish."

"Favorite dish, indeed! I dare say it is a very palatable, wholesome, manly dish, but I would rather have a boiled frog than the whole lot of it."

This was a common expression of his, and had been anticipated by his wife, who, as soon as the preference was expressed, had covered a large dish, not for husband, but there was a building of pretentious and pugnacious aspect stretched out at full length, Zachariah gazing from his chair, not a little frightened at the unexpected apparition.

"My dear," said his wife, in a kind, entreating tone, "I hope you will at length be able to make a dinner."

Zachariah could not stand this. His early mood was finally overcome, and he burst into a hearty laugh. He acknowledged that his wife was right and he was wrong, and declared that she should never again have occasion to read him such a lesson, and he was as good as his word.

Domestic.

POP-OVERS.—One cup full of milk, one egg, one cup full of flour, and a little salt, beat well, and put a tablespoonful of the batter in very small tins. Bake quickly, and eat immediately. —Harper's Bazar.

WREN EYE LIVER DISSECT.—Beat two eggs hard. Mash the yolks with a very little cold water; put one tea-spoonful of sugar, one light tea-spoonful of butter, and not quite a full one of salt. Mix all these things well with the yolks. Add slowly three table-spoonfuls of hot oil, until perfectly smooth, and only one table-spoonful of water.

FRENCH MISTAKE.—Take a quarter of a pound of best yellow mustard, pour over it half a pint of water and vinegar. Add a pinch of salt and a pinch of cayenne. Let the size of a pea. Put it on the fire, and while it boils add a table-spoonful of flour. Let it boil twenty minutes, stirring it constantly. Just before taking it stir in a tea-spoonful of sugar or honey. When cool, put it into bottles, and cork tightly.

BUTTERMILK DISSECT.—To three cups of buttermilk add one of butter, one tea-spoonful of cream of tartar, half a tea-spoonful of soda, a dash of cayenne, salt, and flour enough to make the dough just stiff enough to admit of being rolled into biscuits. The measure has been accurately ascertained, but calculate upon needing about two parts of flour in making by the above highly recommended recipe.

COLE TOMATO SAUCE.—Half a peck of ripe tomatoes, peeled, and drained through a colander twenty-four hours, then made fine. Put to them some small tea-spoonful of milk, one full cup of sugar, one cup of white mustard seed, one gill of nutmeg, four table-spoonfuls of chopped radish, two dozen stalks of celery seed, two table-spoonfuls of ground black pepper, one quart of good vinegar. It must not be boiled. Stir well and bottle for use. This sauce can be used as soon as made.

CAPTAIN TO HOUSEKEEPERS.—Owing to the increasing cost of the beans and the manufacture of Extract Vanilla, the companies are being thrown upon the market purporting to be pure vanilla, but are principally from Tonquin beans. This fraudulent substitute costs the manufacturer less by its use. His cost is principally in the cost of perfuming salt and cigars, and is intended to be used as a flavoring for the various compounds prepared for the human stomach. "Barnett's Extract of Vanilla" is prepared from selected vanilla beans, and is warranted entirely free from Tonquin or other deleterious substances.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.—It is no better remedy than any other up to date the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being a compound of rare and precious substances, brought from the remotest corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Sahara, and then of fourteen camels and brought across the Atlantic Ocean on two ships. It is a simple, mild, soothing remedy, a perfect cure for CATARRH and "GOLD" in the Head; also for Offensive Breath, Loss of Appetite, or Stomach Pain, Taste or Hearing, Water, or Weak Eyes. It is a sure remedy in the Head, or when taken, as they all naturally are, by the violence of Catarrh.

It is sold by most all druggists everywhere, on receipt of Sixty Cents, four packages for $2.00, or one dozen for $5.00. Write to the proprietor, R. V. WIER, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

BELLEVILLE, July 13th, 1875.

D. O. Packer, Post Office.

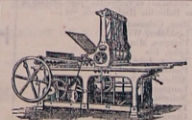

SIR,—I have used two bottles of your Hair Restorer and have much pleasure in testifying the many valuable testimonials of its worth you already have in your hair to grow, but it will certainly prevent it from falling out. As a "Hair Dresser" it is unsurpassed in its class, and will save a great deal of trouble and expense in the use of the so-called Hair Restorers and Dressers. I can confidently speak of yours as being pre-eminently the best, and can safely recommend it.

Having also used your Sovereign Balm, Liver Pills, and Tonic Bitters, I can recommend them as being all that you claim for them.

Yours truly,

Grit Inconscienten-Past and Present.

The following truthful picture of the inconsistencies and utter want of principle on the part of the leaders of the great Grit of Ontario is taken from the Ottawa Citizen, and we commend it to the honest men of the party—

"The unparalleled readiness with which those now in power have trampled beneath their feet pledges once solemnly made to the electorate, cannot too often be impressed upon the minds of all whom it is a significant fact that the great 'Reform' party has for nearly twenty years been forced to forget their principles, strange their professions, and darken their record, in order that a few leading men might revel in luxury and reap the emolument of office, purchased by an utter sacrifice of principle. Glancing back to so far as 1867, we find that three of the prominent principles enunciated by Mr. Grit Brown, then the frontispiece of 'Reform,' were: (1.) The destruction of French and Roman Catholic influence in the Cabinet. (2.) That Upper Canada should have Representation by Population. (3.) That the 16th clause of the Separate School Act should be expunged from the statutes at large. Throughout Ontario the great political hypocrisy proclaimed his creed and determination; the party went to the polls on the basis of these principles, and solved by the strategy—but in August, 1867, no more was this 'Reform' leader called upon to stand by his principles, than he crunched the life out of the living issue, and did the very opposite of what was once promised (1) by the great Grit Brown, who had sworn more Roman Catholics into the Cabinet than had ever held portfolios since the Union. (2) By taking seven colleagues into his Ministry knowing them to be opposed to representation by population, and (3) by solemnly agreeing with certain of them that no change should be made in the separate school act until a commissioner (selected to be the late lamented D'Arcy McGee) visited Europe and reported upon the school system in vogue there. Mr. Grit Brown called into his Cabinet men whom he had misled and abused—sawdust-chew-by-jowl with the Hon. L. H. Holton, whom he had spoken as follows not one year before: 'I was a time, sir, and that not far gone, when the hon. gentleman (Mr. Holton) desired to make Canada a part of the neighboring Republic, and Mr. Grit Brown voted here to-day on the bill with one hundred thousand pounds at stake. 'And that was the result! In 1875 upon the resignation of Mr. Macdonald, one of the most honorable gentlemen's former supporters were requested to join the Government formed by Mr. Alexander Mackenzie. The 'Reform' party was asked for the maintenance of certain principles: (1) No coalition; (2) A reduction of Cabinet ministers; (3) No support to be purchased by the distribution of offices and patronage; (4) Economy and reduction of public expenditures; (5) No corruption at elections! Mr. Saunderson still persecuted me with his unwelcome attentions. I persistently denied the fact of any engagement existing between us, and my spirit often rose rebelliously at the cool manner in which my father and Mr. Saunderson seemed to ignore me right to have any voice in the matter. Woman-like, I chafed against such treatment and at last, when one day my father said that he wished me to be married during the coming summer, I refused decidedly to comply.

"What reason have you for wishing "Father, I can only repeat what I have often said before—I cannot marry Mr. Sanderson; and you know I have never acknowledged to there being any engagement between us."

"I will never marry a man I do not love," I rejoined, thoroughly exasperated; "it is unkind of you, father, to wish me to come the wife of one whom I know instinctively to be a bad man."

"Nonsense," he ejaculated. "I don't see how things are going on! That low Campbell has been making love to and turning your head."

"Mr. Campbell has never made love to me," I replied, quietly and truthfully.

"It is not but that you have given him

"I am sorry people have nothing more important to occupy their minds with," I claimed. "I have so few friends that surely no one need grudge me the companionship."

"Oh, yes,—the old story—similarity of tastes, and all that! By Jove," he exclaimed suddenly starting up, "here's the steam engine and I have to go back to Glasgow this evening!"

I sat at the window, feeling miserenough, and watched the changing opal tof the clouds, faintly tinged with the splendor of the sun, which was setting the hills at the back of the house. I saw people going backwards and forwards to rivers—saw them as in a panorama f-sound reached me to break the silence which seemed to reign around. The twilight deepened, yet still I sat there thinking—thinking if it would not be better for me to go away somewhere—to go away in any honest city, rather than become the wife of a man I loathed. The wife of a man I loathed!

womanly instincts revolted at the thought and I had had so little love, so little happiness in my life, that I could not run the risk of irrevocably completing my misery by marrying George Sanderson.

look down on the piers with their busy crowd and at the swift scintillating Clyde, upon the broad bosom of which the river steamers wheeled most gallily to and fro. Presumably with my thoughts, I wandered on, the fresh breeze from the river fanning my face. The twilight deepened, and I saw the pier-lights were being lighted, traced my steps homeward. The cliff was not much frequented, consequently a little startled as the sound of a man's light, quick step behind me broke upon the stillness of the evening air. It came near me at last the footsteps halted beside me, and a voice said—

"Miss Estcourt! Is it possible?"

It was Archie Campbell who spoke.

"No, indeed; you must be lonely and by yourself, for I saw your father just now my uncle Andrew's."

He made some common-place remarks as we walked along side by side, making modic attempts at conversation. Presently Archie stopped suddenly, and, looking at me, said abruptly—

"Miss Estcourt, I wish to hear distinct from your own lips if you are engaged to Saunderson."

"I am not."

"Then why does your father say so many contradictory rumors, and I

"Only this evening I was thinking it would be better for me to go away from home together."

"I quite agree with you," said he, "For some time past I have thought you should have come home."

went. Bitter, regretful tears gathered in my eyes—"tears, idle tears," the one which I could not account for; and I was that the deepening gloom hid them from companion's gaze.

Silently I turned homewards, when Ar laid his hand upon my shoulder, and said, "Maggie, will you share my home? I here to-night to ask you to be my wife."

My overwrought feelings could be trolled no longer, and I burst into a passion of weeping.

Tenderly, lovingly, Archie tried to soothe me, and led me down the cliff-path. I believe I said "Yes"—I know I meant it; whether I uttered the monosyllable or not Archie seemed to be quite satisfied. As I approached the house, I saw the blind men sitting-room were drawn down and

When the door was opened I heard the sound of loud voices, and knew that some of my father's customary boisterous guests were making merry within; involuntarily I shrunk closer to Archie, who whispered—

"I think I had better not say anything to your father to-night!"

He had hardly uttered the words, when a voice behind us said, menacingly—

"Mr. Campbell, take your arm from around that young lady. I request an explanation of your conduct."

For answer, Archie stopped and kissed forehead, and then, turning to Mr. Sanderson—for it was he—replied:

"There is no explanation necessary or to you. Miss Estcourt is my promised wife. Mr. Sanderson uttered some imprecations and advanced towards me. Archie placed his hand on my shoulder and said: 'Don't do that!'"

"Go in, Maggie—this is no place for you and, as I entered the hall with Janet, he shut the door.

I looked through the hall-window and saw the two men walk away together.

At a spiritual casting held at Detroit, Iowa, last week, a mediumistic response to the question, "How long is it going to rain?" was: "The clouds are pouring out water; and so long as the clouds keep pouring out water it will rain." And then they know all about it.

A lumberman, being but poorly provided with material of sustenance for his men, fed them with pork cooked with the rind upon it. A young man of the company, not liking the odor of the food, was observed by the host to be carefully removing the outside covering. Whereupon one him said: "Young man, we eat rind and all here." To which the youth replied, "All right, old man, I'm cutting it off for you."

A lady was telling a friend from the country of a very grand party given recently. "We had two generals, one judge, a popular author, and a play writer." "Yes," chimed in the friend, "there was a deputy sheriff, too, who said he wanted to see dead, and they went out for free supper, and had him come back yet." That youth went to school the next day with his head all tied up.

That great educator, profound thinker, and vigorous writer, Herbert Spencer, has wisely said: "As vigorous health and its accompanying high spirits are larger elements of success than any other things whatever, the teaching how to maintain them, is a teaching that yields to no other whatever." This is a present age in the preparation of Physiological, Hygienic, and Medical science. No subject is more practical, more common, more useful to every man and woman than this. "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by L. V. Porter, M.D., is a book well calculated to equip a man with the means and will provide him with the means of maintaining his health, and is a book well illustrated with over two hundred pages, in which are given the latest discoveries in each department. It has been the author's aim to make the work instructive, and to make it so far as possible, avoid the use of every subject brought within the easy comprehension of all. An elevated moral pervades the entire book. While it freely discusses, in a scientific manner, the origin, reproduction, and development of man, it does not tend to depraved tastes, depraved passions, or life cravenly, but treats in a chaste and thorough manner of all the latest physiological subjects, a proper knowledge of which accords with the means for preserving health and furnishes incentives to a higher and nobler life. The author, who is also the publisher of the work, is publishing a very large sale for it, has issued twenty thousand copies for the first edition, and this is enabled to offer it (post paid) for one dollar and fifty cents per copy—a price less than the actual cost to the publisher. It is published in only ordinary-sized editions, author, at Bellevue, N. Y., without delay.

DISAGREEMENTS AND ROWS.

DUBLIN, Aug. 6th, 1875.

The grand parade in honor of Daniel O'Connell and in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the great Irish Liberator, took place in this city to-day. Ninety thousand men marched in the column of procession. Thousands of people from the neighboring cities and from England and Scotland, were present.

THE STAFF.

At eleven o'clock the monster phalanx of patriotic Irishmen and lovers of the memory of O'Connell began their march. Great enthusiasm prevailed. The grand flag of Erin was being hoisted from the house-top, and with it, in many places, the Stars and Stripes floated side by side. The great corps was composed as follows:—Sixty thousand representatives were present from the leading trade societies and working men's unions in Dublin and other Irish cities. There were also 25,000 numbers of various social, religious and benevolent societies.

THE FETTERED GARRISON.

The various "cranks" or societies of the Amnesty Association, turned out to the number of fully 10,000 men. This organization demands of the British Government the release from imprisonment of the Fenians now in detention in the jails and penitentiaries of Great Britain. The amnesty brotherhood made it a point to get to College Green before the procession formed.

As they passed along the other waiting ranks of the processionists, the men of the trades societies raised their hats and saluted them, showing a mutual understanding and good will existing between both divisions of men as Irish patriots.

OTHER RE-ESTABLISHED.

After order had been re-established the procession got under way again, and soon reached Sackville street, where it was received with deafening cheers. The procession arrived at Sackville street about two o'clock. Meanwhile the cool porters who were organized as a workingmen's society and were carrying little American flags, to the number of a hundred or so, made a diversion and got the head of the column, thereby putting the amnesty and home rule party in the second place.

A BLACK RAUCUS.

The amnesty men displayed a big black banner at the head of their line, and carried small banners of the same color, each inscribed in white:—

"Remember the Prisoners in chains."

A struggle again took place for precedence as the column moved the end of the route. The amnesty men, with their huge black banner, pushed forward with the intention of being the first upon the platform.

A GENERAL RUSH.

The general mob now and there at the same time, and a scene of great confusion and excitement ensued. The amnesty men climbed up one side of the platform, while the cool porters ascended the other, so that both got on together on the common platform. Each party secured satisfaction in the victory thus achieved, and while affairs looked very threatening for a few minutes no harm was done.

O'CONNOR'S ADDRESS NOT READ.

The Right Honorable the Lord Mayor attempted to read Lord O'Connell's address on the platform, but he declined for the reason that he was not a member of the Amnesty Association. Lord O'Connell had been selected as the spokesman of the Irish nation. He had forwarded now, because the compromisers who attempted to strike a blow against the cause of Irish nationality had not, and the voices of the Irish nationalists must find full expression. O'Connell replied with scorn the Chancellorship bribe which was offered him by the British Government. It was an insult to his memory to nominate a whip wagger of the nation government to stand forth as the representative of the Liberator's principles.

The remarks of Mr. Butt and Mr. Power were greeted with great applause by the multitude. An amnesty meeting was subsequently held in the hall of the Mechanics' Institute.

A DEMAND FOR EXPLANATION.

It was resolved to summon Mr. Synge, M. P., to explain his very extraordinary conduct in entering the tract of the amnesty banner carriage to be taken.

THE BANQUET—A BUTTER-HUFFY AFFAIR.

There was a continental banquet in the Exhibition Palace to-night. Six hundred persons were present. It was an exceedingly excited gathering from the beginning to the end, and culminated in a scene of complete uproar and disorder.

THE REASON WHY.

The toast—"The Legislative Independence of Ireland" was given. The Lord Mayor of Dublin, who presided, cast his chair and fell to the ground. This caused a tremendous uproar, and Lord Mayor was not allowed to speak. Upon this the Lord Mayor vacated his seat as president of the assembly and took his departure from the hall. The lights were extinguished, and the banquet for the night was at an end.

THE FRAMES AT DUBLIN.

There was another disorderly scene at a continental banquet of the Independent. This took place in the large room of the Rotunda, and terminated in scenes of great confusion, uproar and general disorder. A meeting will be held to-morrow as a counter-meeting to the banquet of the Lord Mayor. Twenty-four Home Rule members of Parliament have pledged themselves to attend.

MOIRA LODGE.—The meeting of Moira Lodge A. F. & A. M. will be held this evening.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.—The regular monthly meeting of this Society will be held in the Marble Hall tomorrow evening at the usual hour.

RAIN.—There were several showers of rain today sufficient in quantity to lay the dust and sprinkle the pedestrians who were out for a holiday.

TRUST OFFICERS.—Mr. C. V. Rogers has been appointed Trust Officer for this town. Children who have been accustomed to "run away" from school will have to keep out of sight of Mr. Rogart.

FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late W. S. Miles is appointed to take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence, William Street. His brother, Oliver Miles, and the members of Moira Home Company will attend the funeral.

HOMES AGAIN.—The yacht Uranus Jack is home again after a very pleasant cruise. Besides winning first prize in the Kingston regatta, the Jack sailed a match against the yacht Kill Time at Alexandria Bay, which match she won in the easiest possible manner.

BOY MISSING.—It will be seen by advertisement that Mr. George Spriggs, of this town, desires information as to the whereabouts of his son, a boy about ten years of age. The boy left home four weeks ago, and is supposed to have hired with some farmer living not far distant from town.

IN HOT HASTE.—This morning a cow which was rumbling about the streets without any respect for the By-law, was chased by dogs, and in her haste to get out of the way first sought to invade the Express Office and afterwards to shelter in Messrs. Bredin & Co's drug store. In neither effort was she the brute successful. Her owner ought to be made to appear in the Police Court.

ALBERT COLLEGE.—The Aurora says: The college building is at present under the going considerable repairing under Jan's supervision. The corridors will have handsome wood work three feet high, extending along their entire length and it is probable that new floors will be laid in some of the most damaged rooms. The space now vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Smith and Prof. Gibson have not been filled.

THINK OF THIS.—Fashion for a long time past has placed a wife among the luxuries which a poor man could not afford to enjoy, but we hear at last there is to be a change, and richness in dress is pronounced vulgar. A French countess has appeared at a public concert arrayed in dress that cost less than two dollars. Think of this, ye lonely bachelors, with a limited income; you may be happy yet.

LAW FESTIVAL.—Senator Flint has generously given the use of his beautiful grounds for an entertainment for the benefit of the organ fund of the Bridge Street Methodist Church. Prof. Whiff has charge of the musical portion of the entertainment and a brass band will be heard in the most beautiful manner. The ground will be handsomely lighted up by Chinese lanterns. Full particulars will be given in advertisements hereafter.

CLOSING OF THE GATES.—The anniversary of the closing of the gates of Derry will be celebrated in Kingston tomorrow by a large gathering of "Pretence Boys from the City Lodge of this town" will participate, leaving town at 5:30 a.m., by the steamer Harriet. Doubtless they will be accompanied by a large number of their friends, who will wish to witness the imposing demonstration. Besides of course the Orange order will address the gathering.

REPORTED ATTEMPT AT RAPE.—Last night a Frenchman named Rezac, took a girl, whose name is said to be Maurel, aged 16, into a row boat to row her across the bay to the barges lying at the saw mill there, with which both are connected. Whilst on the way a loud screaming in a woman's voice attracted attention to the boat, and a party of young men who were in a yacht put about to the rescue. They were, however, anticipated by a boat from one of the barges. The girl stated as the cause of her outcry, that the prisoner had attempted to outrage her person, and Rezac was taken into custody by Sergeant Snider, who procured a shift and was soon upon the scene. The prisoner was lodged in goal, and was brought before the Police Magistrate. No one appeared to prosecute, but he was held until tomorrow. Prisoner, who is apparently about 28 years of age, is a very small, bony, looking man. He is married and was visited in the cells by his wife and children.

THE TREMERY ACT.

The case of William W. Conger was finally brought up for judgment. Decision was given against defendant, who will fine $5 and costs.

COW EVIL.

John Mullin was charged with allowing his cow to run at large. The case was not in position to be heard, and the case was laid over for a week.

ASSAULT.

LARCENY.

The prisoner Robert Jamieson, charged with larceny of jewelry belonging to H. Hewitt, was brought up on remand. A witness who had been summoned did not appear, he having been induced to get out of the way. On this point the Magistrate remanded very severely. In cross-examination, Mr. Hewitt said when prisoner offered the studs for sale he was present and claimed them. Prisoner said he had been given the jewelry by another man, standing at the dock, and had then run away. Geo. Reeves, the other prisoner, testified that he did not know how Jamieson came by the studs, but he had seen them with Larry there, three days before. The case was given a general denial to several statements which he was alleged to have made. After some further evidence had been heard prisoners were remanded for a week.

ABSON.

Lawrence McGovern, on remand from yesterday, was further remanded until Friday.

ATTEMPTED RAPE.

Joseph Rescue was charged with an attempt to commit rape on a girl said to be named Morley, aged 16. The complainant did not appear, and prisoner was remanded until tomorrow.

News Condensed.

—The American Team will sail for home on Thursday.

—The Mayor of Woodstock, Ont., has taken to the water, and had then an angry Geo. NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Yesterday a passenger car attached to an east-bound train on the Denver and South Pacific railway was thrown from the track fourteen miles west of Denver, Jas. Smith, W. U. Co's reporter, was instantly killed. Among those who received fatal injuries are Mrs. Jao. Lane and daughter, of Denver. A number of others were severely injured.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Considerable excitement prevails at Corinne, on the Central Pacific railway, growing out of a demonstration of a large body of Indians camped near there, belonging to the Snake, Bannock and other tribes. Nearly 1,000 of them were lately baptized into the Mormon Church. They have supplied themselves with ammunition and are armed today. It is reported, they have sent all their weapons away and have made threats of driving the Gentiles from the west side of Bear river, which they claim has been granted them by the Mormon for a reservation. Geo. Emery has asked for troops to be sent to Corinne, for the protection of the people.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Geo. Crook and Col. Stanton returned here today from the Black Hills. Miners were preparing to leave, covering up the richest lodes to prevent them becoming known until such time as they can return. The country contains silver and gold. The mountains are full of quartz. Capital and skilled labor will develop mines equal to those of Colorado or Nevada. There were about fifteen hundred men in the hills, and a great deal of preliminary work has been done by them in the way of ditches and sluices. There were no Indians in that region and but few had been seen there. Those at the agencies are still demanding that the miners be driven out. Some gold was panned out in the presence of the party, which yielded 75c to the pan. There is abundance of water and grass, and timber for building purposes. The pine is not of the highest merchantable quality. A town called Stonewall has been laid out in Cater's gulch, in the vicinity of which some of the richest lodes are located. The whole country is well adapted for grazing and farming. Troops are now en route to establish a temporary post near Stonewall for the purpose of keeping out miners from the hills, and probably remain until the middle of October.

Geo. Crook and party had fine hunting on Friday, Rapid Elk and Box Elder creeks, taking large numbers of red deer, elk and moose horns.

OMAHA, Aug. 11.—The United States District Attorney has begun suit against John P. Baker, formerly Indian agent, and his bondsman, to recover $16,400 due the government from Baker. He has also begun suit against R. M. Pugh, for failure to bring suit against seven other citizens of this State, some of whom are said to be prominent politicians.

Wheat and oats have suffered. The weather is now in the hands of the weather, and of the latter law than half can be saved. Of corn there will be more than an average crop, owing to increase of acreage. Potatoes will yield largely, although some few farmers are complaining. At most points the yield will be over the average. The wheat crop will not fall short of the average in quantity, but the quality is not as good as usual.

Fame.

The Orestes and the crowd were hushed—None held their breath as the quick words came And they were not their fault if they lived not The tyrant dead and his country free.

ALBION HOTEL,

McGILL STREET AND ST. PAUL STREET, MONTREAL, CANADA.
HAS for twenty years past been the favorite resort of the general travelling public in the United States, as well as of Canada, when visiting Montreal on business or pleasure.
It is centrally located on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial center of the city, commanding a magnificent view of the River St. Lawrence, the Victoria Bridge on the left, and a full view of Victoria Square and Mount Royal on the right. The Hotel is furnished thoroughly in a superior manner, and everything arranged with a view to the comfort of guests. As one of the largest hotels in the Dominion, having ample accommodation for 500 guests, while kept in the latest style, the chances are in its favor. The travelling community will commit their own interests by remembering the Albion Hotel when visiting Montreal.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN IRON SYRUP
MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.
The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protochloride of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food of Nature. It is a "Nature's Own Tonic," simply by Toning up, invigorating and restoring the system. The enriched and vitalized blood purifies every part of the body, helping nature and removing searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.
This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Hoils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all affections arising in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing health, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up on Iron Constitution.
Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy from debility, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.
See that each bottle has the PERU-VIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.
Pamphlets Free.

THE RELIEF OF DERRY.

The Meeting in the Park.
(From the Kingston News.)
The immense procession, which was generally acknowledged to be one of the finest seen in the city, having marched into the Park, the members of the various organizations composing it, visitors, and many citizens, the whole numbering at least 2,000 persons, surrounded the band stand. Mr. Hardy, Grand Master of the Prentice Boy's Guild, presided. Among those on the platform were Mr. Russell, Council Master, and

County Treasurer; Tunis L. Snook, James Marshall, County Master; Jno. Elliott, W.
Lakins, John Holmes, D. Callaghan, and Dr. Porter, District Master, Ottawa.

The Rev. Mr. Bond, was received with great enthusiasm, the cheers being frequently repeated. He expressed his delight at meeting them. For eight years

He was rejoiced to see their noblest-looking British faces. Two years ago he celebrated the anniversary in the city of Derry, where he was made a 'Prince Boy, surrounded by the descendants of Murray and Walker, and the noble men and made the history of the city immortal and there he was honored by receiving the wreath— that of a member of the Murrumbidgee Club. He was proud of being a Prentiss boy—first, because he was initiated in the club, and, second, on account of the magnificent appearance that he had made.

Although a Yankee, he could recognize them all as brethren (cheers). He contrasted the orderly procession of the those opposed not interfering with the scenes he had witnessed in New York. He alluded to the attacks upon arrangement of that city. But the brethren here persisted in their determination to assert their rights until, as Henry Ward Beecher said they should do, not a sail could be found to bark at them. The fact may not with the American people, but with those who were anxious to allow no toler-

Reference was made to the recent demonstration in Philadelphia. "Because of Orangism was increasing; so they kept to their principles—which claimed liberty, fraternity and equality over the law—they had no reason to fear. He rejoiced to see the freedom they oyed on British soil. It did him good see the children in their mother's looking on that day, to see their fine b ers and look at the sturdy fellows young men who marched in the process The event would live long in his mem and on his return to the United States could tell of the fine sight he witnessed in Kingston. In the ranks of the procession he had witnessed those who were in a good measure the strength of Canada. So as such men as those were to be found in Canada would never want defenders (cheers.) The speaker then eloquently

...ism of the church of England, and doing more mischief than Jesuitism (he said). Having presented them with fraternal greetings of 10,000 Orangemen of the United States, and urged them to stick to their principles, he closed his address amidst a storm of applause.

Mr. William Johnson, of Belleville, using the word Orangemen, included the members of the different Associations surrounding him.

From Derry's walks away, out from year to year they would continue to have their celebrations in commemoration of that glorious event. (Chorus) There were some who said that these celebrations ought to be stopped, (a voice)

(No, never)—no they would never be stopped. From one end of the world to the other—wherever Protestant light and liberty were to be found the glory of Deism would never be allowed to fade. It was needless for him to defend Orangeism. Those who attacked it often did so for ignorance, who never read the rules of the constitution. In days of trouble and in the hour of emergency Orangemen had been among the first at the post of duty. (Cheer) in the old land and in this land too to show its value. The work of Orange was before the world and they were shamed of it. There was a tendency now to forget the past and to think less of the future. He alluded to the influence of home training, and they should never forget to teach their children the principles which had been contended for in the past; they had no Derry to defend and province of Quebec (cheers.) In asking to walk the streets of Montreal as Orange men they were wanting no more than to have. It is a right they demanded as they were as much in earnest about it as they were to get an Act of Incorporation from the Government of Ontario (cheers.)

Town and Vicinity.

CORRECTION.—P. L. LeBlanc, sends us a correction of the obituary published in our daily issue of Saturday.

RETURNED.—The yacht Pierrot returned from her cruise on Saturday night, about on board reporting that their voyage had been most pleasant one.

FISHING.—There is at the present time very fine fishing in the Bay. The fish bite freely, and anglers succeed in "landing" large baskets of black bass and other fish daily.

REMEMBER.—The Oddfellows' demonstration will take place at Pictou, tomorrow morning, leaving Pictou at 5 p.m. and arriving here at about 8 p.m.

CRICKET.—The Junior Club of Belleville and an eleven made up from members of the Belleville Base Ball Club, are testing each other's prowess at a game of cricket this afternoon.

SCHOOLS.—The schools of the town reopened today, after the "long vacation," with a considerable attendance of pupils. Now that a truant officer has been appointed, the attendance is likely to be more regular.

SPORTING.—A number of local hunters have taken themselves to the haunts of the ducks, fully prepared for a slaughter of some of the innocents as may incautiously venture within range of their muzzling breach-loaders. Reports from most quarters are favorable to their success.

THE "KATE GRAY."—This yacht was at Brockville on Friday. The Recorder speaks of her as a "fine, smart steamer." Let the Sloop Crimson—Brockville's fastest boat—test her for speed, just to see how she can run, should the Kate visit Brockville again.

A FATHERLESS WIFE.—The wife of an industrious Englishman, not long a resident of this town, has deserted him—eloped with another man, taking with her all the household effects, and their two children. The husband takes it badly, although this is her third offence of the same kind, being resolved to get the eldest child—a boy—then the wife may go where she pleases.

CHANGING FRONT.—Amongst other improvements going on, we notice that Messrs. A. J. & J. McFee, watchmakers and jewellers, are having their store renovated, throughout, and a splendid new front window put in, consisting of one large sheet of plate-glass. Messrs. McFee have always had a handsome window, but they will soon be able to display a portion of their stock to better advantage than heretofore.

LARCENY.—There seems to be an epidemic of larceny raging in town and country here having been, within a month past, more cases of that kind before the Police Court than for years before. We have also heard of other cases, in which the offenders have succeeded in "begging off." A "begging off" is a fact in connection with this matter is that one of those depredators are not short of cash, and are respectably connected. One man of whom we are informed had $2,000 in his pocket when endeavoring to steal a cheap ring in a jewelry store. Such a man ought to have been punished.

REDEMPTION TO WORK.—In consequence of the great depression in the lumber trade, several mills have been about down to wait better times, and the proprietors of others which are still kept in operation find it necessary either to cut down wages, or to follow the example of those who have suspended operations for the time being. Messrs. Mathews & Son, of this place and Mill Point, have offered their employees in the mill here either to work on wages, or to continue work at a reduction of $2 per month on each man's wages. The men, who do not seem to like the proposition, have been given until Wednesday to consider it. It seems not unlikely that the mill hands will follow the example of the mill hands at Ottawa and accept the reduction, as times are hard, work is scarce, and it will be better for them to work at reduced wages than to be thrown out of employment.

GISS.—Saturday's issue of our lively little contemporary has a cartoon which deals with the South Victoria election. Mr. Secretary Wood, habited in the "Catholic vote political law saving dress," has just crossed a deep stream, and is now in the arms of Mr. McLeod, backed by John O'Donoghue. The re-elected Minister congratulates him in this dubious fashion: "This apparatus within me, I'm sure, is now, if they don't suspect me, the cause of this last contingency is soon

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1875

Brave Betsy Callaway.

Brave Betsy Callaway.
It was Sunday, July 14, 1776, and the inadequately-constructed fort at Booneborough lay in drowsy stillness on the bank of the Kentucky River. Daniel Boone and his friend and associate, Richard Callaway, had been absent since early in the morning and the good wives, shapers in the toil of the early pioneer days, were enjoying the peace of the Sabbath brought down to them by the unbroken wilderness. In the grate shade of a tree in one corner of the fort, three young girls, just blossoming into womanhood, and giving an unwelcome harm to the rough evidence of civilization.

The eldest of these maidens was Elizabeth Callaway. The experiences of her life rather than the observance of nature seemed to have given turn to the thoughts of her early settlers, so, while the euphonious name of Bessie might have harmonized well with the murmuring rills and the soft and languid aspect of nature in her summer garb, the hard, every-day life of the adventurous dwelling in the Dark and Bloody Ground seemed to contrast best with the harsher name of Bess. So Elizabeth was known simply as Be Callaway—not a name suggestive of ance, yet she was with all a gentle loving girl, and had maiden fancies the incidents of her life in the wilder She was just turned sixteen, and as sat under the tree that sultry sun through the foliage and played upon the surrounding flora and athwart her wet head seemed to bring out more fully the lutenescent of her young womanhood, the glossy blackness of her ratones and the rich olive color of her complexion.

The three girls were younger by years and differed from her in appearance. Fanny Callaway was fairer than her sister Betsy, but not more pleasing in appearance. The third girl, Jennima Boone, was naturally fair and, like Fanny, owed whatever of fairness she may have lost to scant exposure to the weather. Nor were these younger maidens without their faults; too, for the wilderness matures its occupants rapidly, and, though but four years counted the lives of the two girls, each had a lover who was a hardy and perhaps they were idly chatting about girls caught the sound of the river and she proposed that they should short distance below the fort, to where a small canoe was lying and drift out into the bosom of the river to catch the coolness of the evening waters.

Hastily were they loaded and prepared to push from the shore when they detected a slight rustle in the brush, and in a moment more five stalwart and hideously-painted Indians leaped to the side of the canoe, pulled it close to the shore. What sixteen could be equal to the emergency was here that the true heroine displayed herself. It was here that the sentiment girl who had just been dreaming of her sent lover, and wandering through realms of maiden fancy with girls like self, in an instant converted herself daring and hardy woman of the front it was here that Betsy Callaway, with moment's hesitation, determined to die the honor and the lives of herself and young companions, and wrote her name in the annals of Kentucky. Standing in the canoe, she seized the paddle, and with a single blow laid open to the bone the forehead of the foremost savage. The other Indians pressed on, but, still undaunted, the young girl fought them with the ferocity of a lioness, her mother protecting her young. Finally the Indians were driven off, and the young girl and her mother were rescued.

The consternation at the fort can be imagined. The fathers of the girls returned, and, before the night closed, to meet whatever fate might be in store for them.

Daniel Boone, at the head of a party, and Richard Callaway, at the head of a party on horseback, were off in pursuit. Boone's party were Sam'l Henderson, Holder, and Flanders Callaway. They gave these youths such determined chase and made them press on so eagerly that it only a knightly spirit that prompted them to the rescue of forlorn and captured shoes and put on moccasins, but refused to take off her shoes, and as she walked along she ground her heel in the soil to leave a trail. Noticing this, the Indians made the whole party walk in a single file, and not to turn back and deviate from the course, so as to keep the trail straight and destroy the evidence. Then the undaunted Betsey broke off the trail and led them along the road, and might grow weary and be put to bed. All Sunday night and Monday the post was kept up. On Tuesday morning a slender column of smoke was seen in the distance, and the experienced eye of a hunter at once detected the camp of the Indians. A serious difficulty now presented itself. How were the captives to be released and the story told?

to kill them? There was but little

Town and Vicinity.

RAILS.—Several heavy showers of rain fell this morning, the effect of which has been to moderate the temperature to a pleasant degree.

"BLACKMIST'S DREAM."—This exhibition can be seen every evening at the store opposite the Anglo-American Hotel. Admission, 15 cents; 2 Tickets, 25 cents; Children, 10 cents.

THE SCHOOLS.—The repairs to No. 3 school house and the alterations ordered by the Board not being yet completed, the school will not open until Monday next.
All the other schools are largely attended.

BABY SHOW.—The Pictorial Horticultural Society have determined to leave competition in their baby show open to all, and offer the following prizes for babies at their Pictorial Exhibition on the 8th Sept next: 1st Prize $80, 2nd $50, 3rd $25.

TOWN COUNCIL.—A special meeting of the Council was called last night to consider the advisability of opposing the proceedings taken to quash the bonus bill. A quorum of members did not put in an appearance, but a meeting for the same purpose will be held this evening.

A "DEAD BEAT."—The charitable disposed are cautioned against a beggar woman, who has been knocking at the residences on Taylor's Hill, and appropriating loose articles without consulting their owners. In several instances she was caught at this little game, but was allowed to go on restoring the articles. She is described as a tall, elderly woman.

DEEDS, &c.—We understand that Messrs. John Corry, Wm. Clarke and Chas. Martin, who have represented the Town Council to examine and report upon the dredges, tugs and scows offered for sale at Coburg, Toronto and St. Catharines, left for the last evening to discharge the duty imposed upon them. They will probably be prepared to report at the next meeting of Council.

ATTENTION.—The Street Surveyor's attention is called to the fact that the sidewalk in front of the site of the burned buildings on Front Street, needs either to be removed or that the rails should be "driven home." At present, owing to the surface of the boards supporting the sidewalk having been badly chattered, the rails stick up, in long rows, fully a quarter of an inch high, thereby forming a considerable impediment to pedestrians, especially ladies.

FIRE.—The barns and stables, with about fifteen tons of hay and all this season's crop of wheat and barley, with several agricultural implements, the property of Archibald Cameron, Belmont, were destroyed by fire about one o'clock on Monday morning.

THE CRICKET MATCHES.—The following are the names of the eleven who represent Central Canada in the cricket match at Syracuse to-day: A. N. Page, George C. Strong, (Coburne) R. L. Sewell, J. Hawley, (Belleville) A. Jones, E. Dickson, C. F. Smith, T. Hendry, O. Dobbs, and James Galloway, (Kingston). It will thus be seen that Belleville has no representatives on the team, which we do consider fully represents the cricketing strength of the district. They are yet, however, a strong lot of players.

DOCK.—The press is filled with stories of the sagacity of dogs, (we don't know that there is any connection between them and the "dog days"). We have a couple to tell. There is a dog in town belonging to an ex-Councillor, whose name is fires.
The first-councillor of the fire bell and he is off. His knowledge of our town bells is sufficiently wonderful to testify to the same bells, and all the other bells disturb him not, but the moment the fire alarm bell rings, whether it be the one at No. 2 Station house or the one at the Town Hall, he is off like a shot; and where does he go to? Here is where he shows more sense than many a man. Instead of running up the street and down that, he goes to what he imagines to be headquarters, namely, No. 1 engine house, where he sits down until the engine comes out, when he joyfully accompanies it. He is evidently in his prime and demonstrates it by barking, jumping and running. As the engine is being drawn away to the scene of the conflagration he proceeds it, running as though he were mad, and when the engine gets to its destination he sits down and watches, and when the engine returns, and when he quietly walks home. On one or two occasions he has been locked up when the alarm was given, and on such occasions his howls have been dreadful, and the only way to give the necessary relief, was to let him in.

The other dog is of a different species, and just as unfriendly as the one is friendly.
Called the "first dog" and he will jump to you, the latter you may pat and feed and make as much of you like, or not with as

MR. BUTLER DUNCAN'S PROPOSITION.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 17.—A frightful accident occurred about 10 o'clock morning on the St. Louis and St. Joseph branch of the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Railroad.
As a train was passing over a trestle-work on a dry branch six miles south of Clover Station in Clinton County, the structure gave way, precipitating the mail and express car and passenger cars down a distance of twenty feet.
Feeling the trestle giving way, the engineer put all steam and succeeded in running his engine safely over, breaking loose from the train. There were 50 or 60 passengers on the train; over forty were injured, and only one killed. Several others are likely to die from their injuries; among them are Capt. W. H.
Warner, president of the railroad, and E. A.
Dibot, Member of Congress from the Tenth District in this State. Among the injured are Mayor Hesse, of this city, Mrs. Howe, and three children. All of the injured are being taken to St. Joseph, where they were brought, and have been made as comfortable as possible.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Little addition is given in speculating in grain. The finding of the body of Grinnard, on the 17th, has been discovered a watch, notes, papers, letters and an India rubber ball preserved with a hole in it, and a small bottle of medicine. A certificate of membership in the Chicago public library.
At the time of writing, the balloon was in the middle of Lake Michigan and the possibility of a fall was considered. The body was found by a mail carrier, and it was badly decomposed, the hair and a portion of the face being gone. It was buried in a cemetery near the place where it was discovered.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Wm. Butler Duncan makes the following proposition:—In consideration of our being charged from our present obligations, I propose to pay hereafter

England.

Over twelve million dollars are estimated as lost by strikers in England this season.

In English County Courts, last week, $11 orders were registered to protect the property of wives despoiled by their husbands.

The master baker, Keith Toulson, has had a meeting to form a committee, to regulate trade prices, and suppress adulteration.

The Sultan of Zoubar remarked that, after place he enjoyed the most was the circus in the Champs Elysees.

The bill to provide for a tunnel under the English Channel, which has already passed the House of Commons, is now being read in the House of Lords without opposition.

A second $100,000 gun has been commenced at the Royal Gun Factories at Woolwich, and the trunnion ring has been finished. The first of these monster guns is now nearly complete, and it may be expected that the project will be completed in two or three weeks.

A boy of eleven, named Charles Frederick Cole, has been sent by a London Magistrate for a week's imprisonment, and ordered to have a flogging, for throwing stones at trams.
An application to the magistrate to impose a fine instead of the imprisonment and flogging was refused.

From a paper published by an Austrian official, it appears that the British Empire contains a larger population than the Empires of Russia, Austria, France, Italy and Germany combined. The total population of these only 227,000,000, while that of Great Britain is 29,000,000. The calculation is made in reference to the year 1870.

A new invention for preventing railway accidents, by an improved system of signalling, was exhibited in London several weeks ago to a large number of engineers and inventors.
It consists of an illuminated rail which the four-foot way, by means of which station-masters can telegraph to a train while in motion, or can train cars communicate with another.

Mr. Paul Gerrard, an old member of the Metropolitan Police of London, recently died in that city. He was attached to the Fire Department for over half a century, and was rewarded for meritorious services by the honorary rank of Inspector of the Fire Department, and the honor of the House of Parliament the Royal Exchange and other public buildings. His funeral was a public one, in recognition of his services and the respect in which he was held.

Benjamin Burdett Conant intends to present in person the Masonic lodge of his name to a set of "chairs of order" for the master and warden. The Benconians have recognized the charitable disposition of the Crafts, and his earnest desire to be a co-worker with Freemasonry. The brethren will certainly be glad to accept of a gift, and this will be the first occasion in England on which a lady has been given the honor of "fraternity," and has been in the room.

A statue of Richard Baxter was unveiled at Kildermaster on the 21st of July. It is of Sicilian marble, and of colossal size, being two feet higher than the foundation. On the pedestal of polished grey granite, the following inscription is inscribed: "Between the years 1641 and 1688 this town was the scene of the labors of Richard Baxter, renowned equally for his christian learning and his pastoral ability. His strong and devoted life has advanced unity and comprehension, pointing the way to 'reviving and reviving' Christians and Nonconformists united to raise this memorial.
A.D. 1785."

Englishmen have a national reputation to sustain of absolute staidness and freedom from those epidemics of fashion which, more usually supposed to be the exclusive right of their mercantile neighbors across the Channel. They have failed, signally, during the past few years, to maintain it.
Every now and then a "rage" appears and carries them off. Rages are now all the rage. The entire Kingdom of Great Britain appears to be engaged in cultivating its ebullient blossom. The red rose of Leicester, and the white rose of York, once in her history deluged the island in blood. Roses of all tints and varieties now permeate the country. "Rose Show" is the feature of the season in the provinces, while gigantic exhibitions at the Crystal Palace, in which everybody participates, and for which costly prizes are offered, stimulate competition. If all the frenzies of a nation were as harmless as pure and as natural, the arsenals and navy-yards of the world would rapidly decay.

Lord Darnley, in a letter to the O'Connell certainly, says: "It is a pity that to celebrate the memory of the great orator, the liberator of Roman Catholic Ireland, or is it only a peg on which to hang home. Rule, ribe, and the Ultramontane coldness of the day? If it is the first, then there are few men in Ireland, even an Orange hue who would not help. If it is the second, Protestant Conservatives and indeed all loyal men, should studiously keep aloof from the destruction of a name too great for such small purposes."

"Facts are Stubborn Things." Thousands of human beings are yearly borne on the swift current of disease down to the grave, just because they do not possess a sufficient knowledge of themselves. A man meets his maker, and the first salutation is,
"How are you?" "I am in your health." The reply frequently is, "Oh, I am well, with the exception of a cold." Most persons lightly regard a cold. Ready, do you know that a cold is one of the most dangerous of maladies? A cold not only clogs up the pores of the entire system, and retards circulation, but it is productive of Catarrh, which is quite as bad to the constitution. "Oh," you say, "it is nothing but a cold in my head." True, but that cold is really a mild form of Catarrh, and if not arrested in its progress, it becomes chronic. Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable, often a source of affliction in the lungs of disease. The passage to the nose is obstructed, the sense of smell impaired, and there is a disagreeable sensation of pressure in the head. In the more advanced stages, there are discharge having an offensive smell.
If the disease be allowed to continue in its course, thick, hard incrustations will form in the head, the bones of which sometimes come softened and break away in pieces.
Way will permeate continue to suffer from any annoying, disgusting disease, when they can just as well cure of it. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure the worst form of Catarrh; in fact, it is the only cure and safe remedy which has yet been offered to the public. Many harsh, irritating preparations may, for a time, relieve the urgency of the symptoms, but they do not cure the disease.
Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is soothing and healing in its effects, and when used in the proper manner, it does not fail to effect a cure. Sold by the best preparation known for its cure.

LIQUID FOR THE HAIR.—The Cocaine holds a large proportion of discolored COCAINE OIL, prepared especially for this purpose. Another compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit
stiff and dry, or how glossy for several days). It is combed by all who have used it, to be the best and cheapest Hair Dressing in the World.

THE STOMACH AND ITS DERANGEments are the cause of those ill effects which constitute that so commonly underestimated and so generally neglected disease. When the food is not digested and assimilated, the blood becomes impure and incapable of nourishing and repairing the tissues, and diseases of the vital organs arise, nervous derangements, eruptions, stomach, exhausting discharges manifest themselves, according to the constitution and habits of the individual. Dr. Wheeler's Compound Tonic of Thompson and Collins, a preparing agent of the gastric juice, is a valuable remedy for dyspepsia, and has proved to be the best preparation known for its cure.

THIS EXCELLENT Tonic of Thompson and Collins, a preparing agent of the gastric juice, is a

large proportion of discolored
peculiar properties which so exactly suit

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

DR. WILLIAM GRAY'S Before Taking After Taking

SPECIFIC MEDICINE

Cures all NERVOUS DISEASES, such as THROAT, BRUISES, PROSTRIATION, etc., which, in many cases are produced by over-indulgence in sexual excesses, but the Specific Medicine is an especially recommended remedy for all such cases. It is a Universal Remedy, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature old age, and many other Diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption, and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are caused by deviating from the path of Nature and over-indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

At 15 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent free by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing the members of that "large small family" to keep—and he is carrying some of them through even now. That did not prevent him from setting up his own "household gods," winning both beauty and worth to brighten his home. His adopted country wanted a representative. "Gentlemen," he said, "I can do nothing to induce you to vote for me; but if they think I can serve them, and elect me, I shall serve them. And they did elect him. He carries a good, brown head of hair, with a good clear brain under it, and all the energy

Young men of America! without boorish or influential friends, be wise, true to God and to yourselves, and you need not be begging to any one for capital.

Mentally and physically, there is great danger of overdoing things. Too great strain is sure to take the energy and vigor out of the instrument. We are so satisfied to leave a little more to nature. Overculture is a dangerous thing. It is not intended that mankind should always, at its best, but pursue its way slowly and steadily, feeling only the moving impulse of aspiration. Ambition soon dries up in spring. Our modern school systems drain the physical vigor, and what is all the mental cramming worth in comparison? In fact, how is the intellect to be of service at all in a body broken down worthless? These are questions that seriously worth the asking. Early train-need not be confounded with mental string. At no stage of life can the body be tasked beyond its capacity with impunity.

Live for something! Yes, and for something worthy of life and its capabilities and opportunities for noble deeds and achievements. Every man or woman has assignments in the duties and responsibilities of daily life. We are in the world to make the world better; to lift it up to higher levels of enjoyment and progress; to make its hearts and homes brighter and happier by devoting to our fellow-men the best thoughts, activities and influences we have. This is the motto of every true heart, and genius of every noble life, that no man liveth to himself lives chiefly for his moral gratification. It is a law of our moral being that we promote our happiness in the exact proportion we contribute the comfort and enjoyment of others.

Nothing worthy of the name of happiness is possible in the experience of those who live only for themselves, all oblivious of the welfare of their fellows.

Whatever fortune may be made by who made a fortune by swearing; but seldom happens that they are paid for Does any man receive promotion be-he is a notable blusterer? Or is any advanced to dignity because he is an exin profane swearing; inexcusable, therefore, must be the practice which has thrust him into his cage, the sacrifice to avenge, the ambitious man-preferment miser his gold,—but the common swindler has nothing: he sells his soul for naught and drudges in the service of Satan.

Swearing is void of all plea, it is not offspring of the soul, not interwoven the texture of the body, nor anyhow a to our frame. For, as Tillotson expresses it, "though some men pour out oaths if they were natural, yet no man was

We condemn gossip—scandal's twin sister—yet it is a fault easily committed. We begin by a gentle deprecatory allusion to somebody's infirmity of temper, and we find ourselves specifying a particular time and scene, which straightway one who hears tells again to some one with additions, slight, perhaps, but material. Before we know it we have stirred a hornet's nest. This may be done with any more potent motive than a mere love of fun—and half the gossip in the world is of the unthinking kind, made in merely from a spirit of drollery. worse is that other sort of talk which in slander and begins in malice, and separates friends and sunders the ties of years of intercourse with its sharp and ring discord. The only way to avoid evil is to refrain from making the affair a staple article of conversation in the household. There are plenty of subjects at hand—let us avoid personalities.

precocious. It is often the very smart that makes the commonplace man, an dunce, who makes his parent ashamed him, that at last becomes distinguished.
The boy likely to be "somebody" in time will, probably, be that torment of life who poaches preserves, fights brothers, and is brought in black and from bruises gained in a fall from neighbor's apple tree ; while the ex-fellow who is at the head of his class never wears out the knees of his trouwill disappoint your expectations. It is the very worst way to make a genius of a child, to bring him up for one. Under training, if he has not the real stuff in him, he will become a conceited jackanapes. If he has the real stuff in him it will develop itself in its own fashion, and at its time; and nature will generally pos-that time until his legs are sturdy, his strong, and fun, frolic, and a good aphave done their best for him, and ma-work, which is something more nec-got of than parents who like showy children apt to think.

In the Still Night.

Some years ago, I was appointed supervisor of a district in which, for some time, I had been acting as a volunteer fireman, with special instructions to exert myself zealously for its repression.
I took up my residence, accordingly, at a small dwelling not very far from the docks of Tipperary, and put myself in communication with the various officers of constabulary stationed in my district, to concert a vigorous system of detection.
The result of this it is not my intention to chronicle. The events of a single night, which made a strong impression upon me, I wish to give an account of.

I had received a message from the subaltern of constabulary to the effect that his men had discovered at active centre of the illicit manufacture of spirits; that he had a watch upon the place, and proposed, with my concurrence, to make a seizure of the premises that night; and a seizure of any unlawful implements, when he had reason to think that the concern would be in full operation. The nearest station to the scene of action was Port-lough, where a car would meet the train at six p.m., to carry me to the scene of action.

At six o'clock, therefore, on a dark November night, I found myself at the dimly lighted station at Portlough. Two or three peasants, and half-dressed tops and trousers, in red coats and top boots, were waiting for me. One of these latter had been my companion in the railway carriage, and, during the journey, had been loudly lamenting that owing to pecuniary difficulties, the master of the country house could not hunt his pack this season, and that they were thus obliged to go far afield for their sport.

Outside the station, several dog-carts and phaetons were waiting for the hunt-men; lamps flashing, and horses tossing their heads and jingling their harness impudently among the red net, a shabby country jaunting-car, with a rough and unkempt, but active-looking horse in the shaft.

"Are you waiting for me? I did Lieutenant Kelly send you? I asked of the driver." d1w

"Right your honor; indeed, he did!" cried the man, briskly drawing up to his door. "Jump up, quick! I'll have you to the barracks like the wind!"

We went bravely along the dark wet roads for some distance, and presently came in sight of the barracks, where a detachment of constabulary, in their dark, soldierlike uniforms, was drawn up prepared for a party. The officer in charge came up, and as I was about to enter, he had ascertained the plan of action. I noticed that the driver of the car, whose name I had ascertained was Murphy, seemed to listen eagerly, although he simulated an attitude of carelessness, and he was looking up in his seat some old sacking wrapped around him, and his cap pulled over his face.

"You'll follow the constabulary, and keep them in sight all the way," said I, addressing Murphy.

"All right, your honor," he replied in a low, husky voice.

The police dashed forward at a swinging trot, and we followed at the same pace.
The night was dark, and I have said, but the moon would rise in an hour or two.
The road was good, and well defined between stone walls, and as long as we kept within sight of the constabulary, there was no danger of going astray. But the country seemed silent and deserted; there were no lights from cottages or cabins; no hamlets or comfortable roadside inns; all lights of civilization were extinguished, and we might as well have been passing through some unpopulated wild.

Nowhere notwithstanding vigorous aunts and cracks of the whip, the horse began to flag, and we fell farther and farther from the constabulary. At last, a part of the road shut them out of sight altogether. As we ascended a slight hill, the constabulary fell into a wall and neither blows, nor the latest bestowed, I fancied, more upon the shafts than the horse, could move to increase speed.

"Come, push on," I cried impatiently;
"they shall be behind all right."

"Never fear," said the man, getting down from his perch, and beginning to walk by the side of his horse—"never fear," said I, "I know the way a deal better than HARRINGTON—Shelton Jarvis; Hon. Frank

Merchants' Bank; R. H. Bellone, Esq.; Cashier Dominion Bank; L. W. Smith, Esq.; D. L. President Building and Loan As-

d5w-6m

"What do you know where we are going?" I asked with surprise; for as far as I knew, this had been kept a professed secret.

"Sure," said the Tullybarron barony household, said Murphy, touching his hat to me, and beginning to walk by the side of his horse—"I know the way a ally and Dr. Thomas White; found the body of a well developed and healthy young woman; on examining the external parts of generation, the labia were found swollen; on separating the labia the vagina had a very congested appearance; the body was now opened, and on more minute examination the vagina was found very much enlarged for its entire extent, and on the right side at the entrance there were marks of abrasion; the uterus was dilated so as to allow two fingers being passed through it to the fundus uteri etc; a dark of winter wheat, abundance is the rule, but even with the winter wheat the yield is greater than could have been anticipated for such a terrible winter as we passed through. The upward tendency of the production of wheat, brought on by the disastrous floods in France and England at harvest time, will go far to reconcile farmers to a shortness in its yield. Canada is better off as respects her harvest, both as respects quality and quantity of the yield, than any other section of the continent.

VOIDED.—A telegram from Montreal says that the Montreal Centre Election is voided, but strange to say Devlin is not disqualified. It is evident Judge McCreary doesn't read the law in the same light as Ontario Judges do, as according to the interpretation the latter give of the personal responsibility of candidates, Devlin did enough to personally disqualify a dozen candidates.

considered very good policy, but "All the Reformers" of East Kent, West Welling, and other vacant constituencies are doing a good deal of that business just now. West Welling, Garbutt it appears, is thrown up the sponge and a requisition has been presented to a Guelph lawyer named McMillan to step into the breach. East Kent Duck has flown the field and has been succeeded by McCraney; and in Welling, Dr. Stevenson has returned to his impounding of nostrums.

Cannel Coal for grate fire, which we believe to be superior to anything in the market. We also have Briar Hill and Red Bank Lignite, for steam purposes. Also dry Hardwood, under cover. We also have a full supply of all sizes of Scranton (also under cover), which we can safely recommend to the public, giving more heat to the ton and with less smoke and clinkers than any Coal in the market. We will sell our prices for this month, at the Coal Office, Bogart's Block.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 27, 1875.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.—A special meeting of the Board will be held this evening.

POLICE COURT.—The old formals come into use again. No business in Court to-day.

NOW GOING ON the great bankrupt sale of dry goods and clothing at Walsb's Commercial House.

FIRE.—On the night of the 25th, River

View Villa, late residence of S. Sanford, Esq., Shannonville, was totally destroyed by fire. It is supposed to be an act of willful incendiarism. No insurance.

GO TO THE COMMERCIAL HOUSE, Walsb's

bankrupt stock of staple dry goods and clothing are being sold off at unheard of low prices.

HARLEY.—The first load of new barley of the season was so on at the market this morning. S. Stobson bought it for Mr.

Fuller at 80 cts per bushel.

P.R.N.C.—The picnic of the Baptist and Congregational Church Sunday School took place to-day. There was a considerable attendance.

PERSONAL.—Amongst the official assignees appointed for Ontario, we observe the name of Mr. F. G. Henderson, son of ex-Mayor Henderson, who has been appointed for the County of Hamilton.

THE BANKRUPT STOCK of dry goods and clothing at Walsb's Commercial House is being sold off rapidly, call early and secure some of the bargains.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.—We have been requested to state that a special meeting of the above Society will be held at Mr.

Nunn's office, Campbell Street, on Monday evening.

CONTRACT LET.—We learn that Mr. C.

Martin, of this town, has taken the contract for putting in a steam engine and elevators, and generally fitting up the machinery of the Messrs. McEllen's elevator at Trenton, which will be the major of the best in this part of the country.

BARGAINS are being obtained at the sale of Walsb's bankrupt stock of first class dry goods and clothing, now going on at the Commercial House, next door to Mr.

Nathan Jones.

A THREE CAPTAINS.—The Trenton

Courier says: "On Wednesday, our portly constable, and Mr. James McCor-nick, of St. Catharines, (a St. Crispin tramp) paid a friendly visit to the County

Building, at Belleville. Mr. McCormick took a coat from the peg in the office of Mr.

Dore LeGue, an aristocratic femoral doctor, and acknowledging the corn His Honour, the Reeve, gave him the freedom of the County Buildings, awaiting further orders from the Judge."

OFFICIAL ASSIGNMENTS.—It will be noticed

by the list which we publish in another column that Messrs John Parker Thomas and Marshall B. Rollin have been appointed Official Assignees for the County of Hastings, under the new Act. We are glad to know that the Government have placed the experience and ability of Mr.

Thomas at the service of the public, as he has for several years officiated in that capacity. In appointing Mr. Rollin they have rewarded a supporter who has been consistently acceptable. Both gentlemen are to be congratulated on their appointment.

STEALING HORSES.—Horse thieves are operating in the Brighton district, the Chief of Police having yesterday received telegrams directing the arrest of parties who had stolen horses from the vicinity of Brighton and Warkworth. No traces of the thieves were found here, and it is believed that they have gone west, or have a route through the back country. These rascals had better travel to Missouri or some of the western states, and practice the same style of honesty, just to see how

MCGILL STREET AND ST. PAUL STREET, MONTREAL, CANADA.

Has for twenty years past been the favorite resort of the general travelling public in the United States, as well as of Canada, when visiting Montreal for business or pleasure. It is centrally located on McGill Street, the great thoroughfare and commercial centre of the city, commanding a magnificent view of the city, the Victoria Bridge, the Parliament Buildings, and a full view of Victoria Square and Mount Royal on the right. The Hotel is furnished throughout in a superior manner, and everything arranged with a view to the comfort of guests. As one of the largest hotels in the Dominion, having ample accommodation for 500 guests, while kept in first-class style, the charges will be moderate. The travelling community will consult their own interests by remembering the Albion Hotel when visiting Montreal.

Autumn.

BY ALFRED MORRIS.

The reader will find in the wall.

When the leaves have fallen about

And in the truth, good deeds should be Considered in sweet harmony.

The teacher will find in the wall.

Though night's dark curtain is now down,

The white stars show themselves, and shine

Through misty clouds, and the moon is seen

And oh! to feel that first and true

The light of heaven within the heart.

About Astronomy.

THE PROFESSOR IN HIS LABOR.

I saw and heard him as I was going home the other evening. A big telescope was pointing heavenward from the public square, and he stood beside it and thoughtfully inquired:

"Is it possible, gentlemen, that you do not care to view the beautiful works of nature above the earth? Can it be true that man of your intellectual appearance will suddenly cling to 10 cents rather than take a look through this telescope and bring the beauties of heaven within miles of your eyes?"

The appeal was too much for one young man to resist. He was a tall young man with a big face, high cheek bones and anxious look. He looked at the 10 cents and then at the telescope, hesitated for a single instant, and took his seat on the stool.

"Here is a young man who prefers to tear his soul with scientific knowledge rather than become a world-gazing visionary," he remarked the astronomer, as he arranged the instrument. "Fall back you people who prefer the paltry sum of 10 cents to a view of the gates of paradise, and give this noble young man plenty of room!"

The noble young man removed his hat and placed his eye to the instrument, a cloth was thrown over his head, and the astronomer continued:

"Behold the bright star of Venus! A sight of this star is worth a thousand dollars to any man who professes education to money." There was an instant of deep silence, and then the young man exclaimed:

"By goah!"

I stood behind him and knew that the telescope pointed at the fifth story of a building across the square, where a dance was in progress.

"All of them indulge in exclamations of admiration as they view the beauties and mysteries of nature," remarked the astronomer. "Young man tell the crowd what you see."

"I see a fellow huggin' a girl!" was the prompt reply—"durned if there isn't a demon of them!"

"And yet," continued the astronomer,

"there are sordid wretches in this crowd who hang to ten cents in preference to observing such sights as these in ethereal space. Venus is millions of miles away, and yet by means of this telescope, and by paying ten cents, this intellectual young man is enabled to observe the inhabitants of that far off hugging each other just as naturally as they do in this
